

Take care of your body and
your mind
will follow

Did you know?

Exercise increases the number of connections between neurons, which are responsible for improved memory.

A regular workout could be just what you need to stay sharp in school!